

GOT DOVES? CORDOBA DOES!

Cordoba Not only is Cordoba the undisputed “Dove Capital Of The World”, but you can shoot 365 days a year there. Many places advertise that they have lots of doves, but there is no place that can say they have more doves than Cordoba. Why risk your hunt by going any where else?

Professional Operation Since we shoot all year, the entire staff is permanent and very well trained. Most of the shooting venues are owned and are at the entrance to roosts. This safeguards, and ensures, high volume shooting.

The Shooting No matter how it’s described, you have to see it to believe it! If the suns up, they are flying in large never ending numbers. Multiple locations and shooting venues vary the bird presentation, so each half day hunt is different. The one thing that never changes is the large impressive quantities of doves! It’s guaranteed!

Accommodations Most operators will house you in good accommodations, but Palomar “Under the doves” and Las Vertientes (La Aguada renamed) located in the heart of the Cordoba Valley are a cut above all the rest! You will experience their famous “White Glove” service and amazing attention to detail during your stay. Each meal, whether in the Estancia or in the field, is a feast for the eyes and the tummy. Delicious food and wine presentations will be remembered along with the fantastic shooting. Both estancias have six or seven private bedrooms with in-suite facilities,
